

THE STONE SOUP SESSIONS

LET'S GET COOKING!!

NEXT SESSION: SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 2015

For decades, the Austin area has been rich in musical events and sharings. These have included sessions for Celtic music, old time string band, blues, bluegrass, Cajun and song sessions to name a few. However, with the exception of eclectic performances at open mikes and special festivals such as the AFTM Midwinter event and the Texas Music Museum World Music Festival, there has not been a session for all musicians and singers to come together to mix it all up and enlighten and inspire one another.

The Stone Soup Sessions, a collaboration between the Austin Friends of Traditional Music and the Texas Music Museum, Are held every third Sunday from 2-5 pm. Parking is free and is available to all Stone Soup musicians and visitors. The event is designed to offer an opportunity for Central Texas area traditional musicians of all genres to come together and share their songs and tunes.

The event will take place at the Texas Music Museum, 1109 E 11th St, Austin TX and is free of charge and open to the public. All traditional musicians are invited to participate and interested listeners are invited to enjoy the session.

The format for the session will be as follows: Musicians will sit in a circle and each in turn will be invited to share a song or tune of their choice. They may have others join in or opt for a solo performance. For more information, please contact the facilitator, David Polacheck at polacheckdavid@gmail.com or 512 750 8142.
